Clearing the Plains

Disease, Politics of Starvation, and the Loss of Indigenous Life

by James Daschuk

foreword by Elizabeth A. Fenn, prologue by Niigaanwewidam James Sinclair

In arresting but harrowing prose, James Daschuk examines the roles that Old World diseases, climate, and, most disturbingly, Canadian politics—the politics of ethnocide—played in the deaths and subjugation of thousands of Indigenous people in the realization of Sir John A. Macdonald’s “National Dream.”

Field Notes for the Self

by Randy Lundy

Field Notes for the Self is a series of dark meditations reaching for freedom from illusion, freedom from memory, from “the same old stories” of Lundy’s violent past; and freedom, too, from the unreachable memories of the violence done to his Indigenous ancestors, which, Lundy tells us, seem to haunt his cellular biology.
